RHS Dance Team

The Ridgewood High School Dance Team competed at their second competition of the season on February 7 at Pascack Valley High School. The team received high scores in “jazz technique” as well as “level of difficulty”.

They are currently preparing for the New Jersey Dancers State Championship which will be held in two weeks at Ramapo College. The team’s next performance will be on February 24 at the Ridgewood High School varsity basketball game.

The team is made up of nine RHS students and coached by Caitlin Musso.

French Immersion Day

On Friday, February 6, world language teachers, Ronnie Friedman and Laura Polk, accompanied fifteen Ridgewood High School students to Montclair State University for the third annual “French Immersion Day”.

Students participated in workshops presented by Montclair faculty, and saw some short films submitted by local students.

Hearts Against Hunger

Ridgewood High School Football Hearts Against Hunger Food Drive is taking place right now.

Most needed items: pancake mix, syrup, rice products, jelly, hot cereal, dishwashing liquid, coffee, tea, juices, parmalot, tissues, paper towels, condiments, snacks, canned meats, etc.

Place items in the boxes at the school entrances.
RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.

Digital Learning Day 2015

Students in Colleen Contreras’ and Lynn Moore’s English 11 class conduct research on their Chromebooks for their Career Project, as part of Digital Learning Day. Diana Capetola, the school librarian, also showed the students how to navigate the new Libguides Virtual Library - Career Exploration Resources and citations guide.

Digital Learning Day is held on February 5 and sponsored by the Alliance for Excellent Education (AEE) and is a day that celebrates teachers and shines a spotlight on successful instructional practices and effective use of technology in classrooms across the country. Nearly 2 million students take part in Digital Learning Day lessons each year. Ridgewood High School had participated in this great initiative for the past three years.

RHS POLICY CORNER: Student Obligations

Upon returning to class after an absence of any kind, all students are required to make an appointment with the teacher regarding making up work and/or time in accordance with the following guidelines.

a) Short-term Absence of 3 days or less: Students are encouraged to contact classmates for assignments and to attempt to complete assignments before returning to class.

b) Extended Absence of 4 days or more: Student, parent, or guardian should contact the Guidance Counselor for homework/assignments.

c) All Absences: For every absence, the student is required to contact the teacher to determine that satisfactory arrangements have been made for making up work and/or time.
Court Warming and Senior Night

Ridgewood High School teacher, Doug Aday organized Ridgewood’s first Court Warming Event at RHS in conjunction with the Boys Varsity Basketball Senior Night. The event was aimed at supporting the RHS basketball team and raising school pride through a series of activities and fundraisers.

The choir sang the national anthem, the pep-band performed throughout the game, and the dance team performed at half time. A variety of student contests were held, with winners receiving gift cards, I-Pads, and a $500 scholarship. Additionally, the court warming committee honored the service of nine veterans at half time.

During the game, eight senior boys were honored for their commitment and dedication to the basketball program. To top off the night, the Ridgewood Maroons defeated their Indian Hills rivals 63-48 to improve their season record to 13-6.

QUOTE TO REMEMBER...

“If knowledge can create problems, it is not through ignorance that we can solve them.” - Isaac Asimov

Students in Lynne Feeney’s AP biology class test environmental conditions on goldfish respiration in order to learn more about cellular respiration.

Students in Stefanie Gigante’s Latin I class take a PARCC-like test using the Edulastic system.

Patricia Hans’ and Larry Holand’s literature identity and media, and TV I classes work to produce a collaborative newscast.

The senior varsity boys basketball players pose with their families during the Ridgewood High School Basketball Senior Night, on February 10. During the home game, the senior players were honored for their contributions to the RHS program over the past four years.